Re: Recall of Various Nature Made® Dietary Supplement Products

To Our Valued Customers:

This is to advise you that Pharmavite LLC is conducting a recall of the specific lots of products listed in Attachment A to this letter. For your convenience a picture of each product is also included in Attachment B. No other products or lots are impacted by this recall.

These products are being recalled due to possible contamination with micro-organisms, which may include Salmonella, Staphylococcus aureus, yeast and mold, after it was discovered during a review of laboratory records that certain microbiological testing was not completed properly on these specific batch lots. Pharmavite has identified the cause of the error, is taking the matter very seriously, and is taking appropriate steps to address the issue.

Salmonella, an organism which can cause serious and sometimes fatal infections in young children, frail or elderly people, and others with weakened immune systems. Healthy persons infected with Salmonella often experience fever, diarrhea (which may be bloody), nausea, vomiting and abdominal pain. In rare circumstances, infection with Salmonella can result in the organism getting into the bloodstream and producing more severe illnesses such as arterial infections (i.e., infected aneurysms), endocarditis and arthritis.

The presence of Staph aureus toxin in food may lead to food poisoning. The onset of symptoms in staphyloccocal food poisoning is usually rapid and in many cases acute, depending on individual susceptibility to the toxin, the amount of contaminated food eaten, the amount of toxin in the food ingested, and the general health of the victim. The most common symptoms are nausea, vomiting, retching, abdominal cramping, and prostration. Some individuals may not always demonstrate all the symptoms associated with the illness. In more severe cases, headache, muscle cramping, and transient changes in blood pressure and pulse rate may occur.
